Welcome to Johns Hopkins! We are committed to bringing the most talented, creative, and ambitious students to the Hopkins community, regardless of their family’s financial circumstances. Our financial aid programs allow us to make a Hopkins education possible for all students based on their achievements and potential, not their personal financial situation. Financial aid advisers work closely with every aid applicant, providing guidance and support throughout the process. There are many resources available to help families pay for college, and we’ve compiled some of the most helpful information in this guide.

Things to Know
Tips to help you and your family navigate the financial aid process at Hopkins:
- Review your financial aid award and Financing Worksheet and begin discussing how your family will meet your share of the educational expenses.
- Continue to monitor your financial aid “To Do List” tab on the student portal to stay current with the status of your financial aid documents.
- Fall semester bills are mailed from the Office of Student Accounts in early July. Payment is due to the university in mid-August. Spring semester bills are emailed in December. Payment for the spring semester is due in mid-January.
- After your JHU email account has been established by the university, please check it regularly. We will use your JHU email address for all correspondence.
- Every applicant is assigned a financial aid adviser. Your adviser’s contact information was included with your aid notification and is also available on our website (finaid.jhu.edu/contact). Your adviser welcomes the opportunity to work with you and is readily available to answer any questions you may have.

A Guide to Paying for College

Welcome to Johns Hopkins!

Support and guidance. The Office of Student Financial Services will help your family navigate the financial aid application process and explore the resources available to help your family pay for college now and throughout your time here. We are ready to give you the information you need to make the best decision for your family.

Flexibility. There are many options available to help fund your child’s education. We know that each family has unique circumstances, and our advisers are skilled in walking you through the available options.

Commitment. At Hopkins, we are dedicated to meeting 100% of need for our families for all four years of undergraduate study. If your financial circumstances change, our advisers will re-evaluate your eligibility in consideration of your family’s current situation.

This guide is just a start to the conversation about how to pay for college. To continue the discussion, please contact us or visit our office when you’re on campus. We look forward to working with you now and in the future.
Federal Direct Loan Programs

Federal Direct Loan programs help make college more affordable by enabling families to spread educational expenses over time. Federal Direct Loan programs provide several options to help pay for college. Families often combine several of the following options to create the plan that works best for them.

Maximizing Loan Limits

- Freshmen $5,500
- Sophomores $6,500
- Juniors $7,500
- Seniors $7,500

Details:

- Repayment begins six months after the student completes his/her studies or drops below half-time status.
- A 1.066 percent federal fee is deducted from the loan proceeds prior to disbursement.
- The origination fee may change depending on congressional legislation.

Financial Aid Questions

Federal Direct Student Loans can be subsidized or unsubsidized. Eligibility for both loan types is determined on the basis of the information you provide on the Free Application for Federal Student Aid (FAFSA).

Subsidized Federal Direct Loans

These loans are need-based. The federal government pays the interest while you’re in school at least half-time and for the first six months after you graduate or drop below half-time status. The interest rate for 2017-18 is 4.45 percent. Interest rates are set annually in June.

Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loans

Unsubsidized Federal Direct Loans are not need-based and are available to all students regardless of income. Interest accrues on the loan beginning at the time of disbursement and can be paid monthly or quarterly, or capitalized upon graduation. Independent students and dependent students whose parents are denied a PLUS loan may borrow an additional unsubsidized loan. Freshmen and sophomores can borrow an additional $4,000 per year, while juniors and seniors can borrow an additional $5,000 per year.

PLUS Loans

Federal Parent PLUS Loans are federal guaranteed loans available to parents of dependent undergraduate students. There is no financial need requirement to receive these loans, but the student must submit a FAFSA and meet federal eligibility requirements. The parent borrower must not have an adverse credit history. Borrowers are eligible to request up to the full cost of attendance minus any financial aid the student receives.

PLUS Loan Application Process:

2. Request a PLUS loan online at www.studentloans.gov. Requests for 2018-19 will be accepted beginning on May 1.
3. New Federal Direct PLUS loan borrowers will also need to sign a Master Promissory Note, available on the Direct Loan website www.studentloans.gov.

Credit Review

- A credit review is required for a PLUS loan. There is no “debt-to-income” review, but you must pass a credit check. Your credit may be considered adverse if you are experiencing foreclosure, have accounts that are 90 days or more delinquent, or are in default on a loan. Visit https://studentaid.ed.gov/glossary/Adverse_Credit_History for more information about PLUS loan credit requirements.
- A co-borrower/endorser option is offered if the borrower’s credit is denied: Credit checks are valid for 180 days. We advise borrowers to wait until the summer before applying for the upcoming year. Processing will begin in June.

PLUS Loan Terms:

- The interest rate for 2017-18 is 7 percent. The interest rate for 2018-19 will be set in June 2018.
- Interest begins accruing after the first disbursement.
- A 4.264 percent origination/fees fee is deducted from each disbursement.
- The origination fee may change depending on congressional legislation.

PLUS Loan Disbursement:

Disbursements are scheduled at the beginning of each semester and are deposited directly into the student’s account.

PLUS Loan Repayment

- Standard repayment begins 60 days after the loan is fully disbursed. “Fully disbursed” means that all installments (fall and spring) have been posted to a student’s account. This typically occurs in late January, with repayment beginning in March/April.
- Parents may choose to defer payments up to six months after the student completes his/her studies or drops below half-time status. Interest will accrue and be capitalized quarterly. Parents may choose to pay the interest on a monthly or quarterly basis.
- There is no pre-payment penalty.
- Consolidation options and extended graduated repayment plans are available.

Monthly Payment Plan

A plan is available to parents to help meet the expected family contribution and/or pay the full cost of Johns Hopkins University with manageable monthly payments. The plan allows parents to pay up to the annual cost of tuition and room/board in 30 equal monthly installments, with payments beginning on June 1. No interest is charged, but there is an enrollment fee of $55 per semester. Many families combine the monthly payment plan with other options, such as the PLUS loan, to pay for college in the way that makes the most sense for their families. Many combinations are possible. For more information about the Tuition Management Systems (TMS) Monthly Payment Plan, go to www.huhomewood.afflord.com or call 1-800-722-4867.

Additional Scholarship Sources

Outside/Private Scholarships from external organizations can be a valuable source of aid. We want students to get the full value of their scholarships, so you may use your private scholarships to replace the loan and/or work portion of your financial aid package. Johns Hopkins University grants/scholarship aid will only be reduced if the total amount of private scholarship assistance is greater than the loan and work portion of your financial aid offer. All scholarships must be reported to Student Financial Services. More information about this policy may be found online at finaid.jhu.edu.

ROTC Scholarships provide full tuition for highly qualified students who desire to serve our country as Army officers. Contact the Department of Military Science at www.jhu.edu/rotc or by calling 410-516-4685. Air Force scholarships may also be used at JHU.

Veteran Benefits

Hopkins participates in all veterans programs, including Yellow Ribbon and the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Your eligibility for institutional aid may be revised if the combination of JHU aid and veterans benefits exceeds your financial need (as calculated by JHU). Students may choose to reduce their federal work study and/or federal loan but are not required to do so.

Higher Education Tax Benefits

There are several federal income tax benefit programs available for families who have expenses for higher education. Your family may qualify for the American Opportunity or Life Time Learning Tax Credits. Information and eligibility requirements for tax benefits are available in IRS Publication 970 or at www.irs.gov.

Estimated Costs

Billed Expenses 2017-18

- Tuition ………………………………………………………………………………………………………….. $52,170
- Room and meals ……………………………………………………………………………………………….. $15,410
- Matriculation fee (first-year students only) ……………………………………………………………….. $550

Estimated Indirect Expenses (These are credits that do not appear on your bill but should be considered as you budget or planning for financing a college education.)

- Books and supplies ……………………………………………………………………………………………….. $1,230
- Personal expenses ……………………………………………………………………………………………….. $1,053
- Travel expenses (average) ……………………………………………………………………………………………….. $660

University room and board charges are based on type of room selected, location, and number of meals. This represents an estimate for a double room in the AMR and a 10-meal plan.

Veteran Benefits. For veterans programs, including Yellow Ribbon and the Post-9/11 GI Bill. Your eligibility for institutional aid may be revised if the combination of JHU aid and veterans benefits exceeds your financial need (as calculated by JHU). Students may choose to reduce their federal work study and/or federal loan but are not required to do so.

Travel expenses will depend on frequency and distance.
